Forum #44

Reporting & Recording: The Paraprofessional's Role

July 16, 2009, 3:00 - 4:00 p.m. ET

Reporting and recording care is an essential component in responding to patient needs and providing high quality care in the home. This Forum will provide a detailed look at what information needs to be recorded and the importance of its accuracy.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND:

- Paraprofessionals
- Supervisors
- Trainers

PRESENTER:

Karen Murphy, RN, CMS
Adept Resources, Troy, NY

Karen Murphy is a home care consultant who has owned and operated a home care agency for more than twenty years. She is a registered nurse entrepreneur — an administrator who understands clinicians.

She has successfully written proposals, applications, policies, procedures, and revisions for agencies throughout New York State and has assisted numerous clients in managing regional relationships with the NYS Department of Health.

WHAT YOU'LL LEARN:

- Review the process of performing and documenting the home care visit
- Learn why the care plan must be accurately reviewed at every visit
- Get a step-by-step review of what should be recorded during each visit
- Learn how to determine when a patient's condition requires immediate action
- Find out what must be recorded on Change of Condition reports
